A beautiful exploration of German architecture and its play in the political discourse, in particular the rise of the far-right.

About this Event

Future Archives series presents

Where To In History (2020, Germany)

FREE (Suggested Donation $5 for reserved seating)

Synopsis: Dresden is famous for its attempt to meticulously reconstruct its once bombed-out historical center and bring the colorful baroque settings of the 18th century back to life. It's infamous for the right-wing-surge that has since 2015 swept the city and made it a center of far-right activity in Germany and Europe. This film is an exploration of where the two intersect.

Writer/Director: Hans Christian Post

Language: German, English

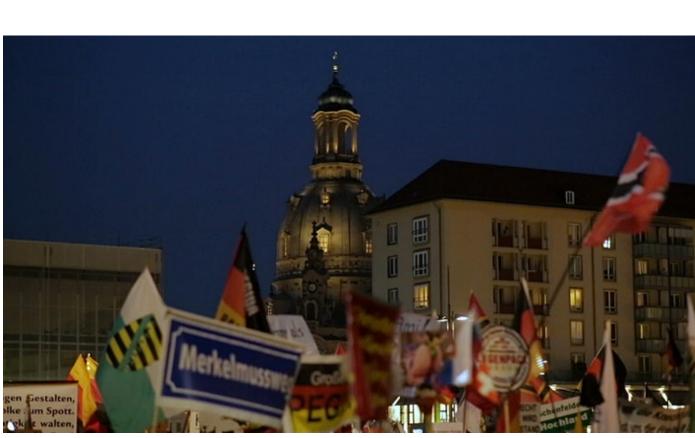

To ensure social-distancing, please RSVP for yourself and your group (via Partner tickets at check-out) for donation-based tickets to reserve entire row. For additional rows, please reserve tickets on separate transactions.

Our Coffeehouse/Cinema's Precautions

- Masks are required by law when not eating or drinking;
- Cinema is cleaned between screenings and all heavily touched surfaces are sanitized;
- Social distancing is encouraged. Rows are placed deliberately 6 ft apart; please ask staff if you would like adjustments in the arrangement.

Please arrive 15 minutes early to place drink/food orders. Screenings begin on-time.
